MOODY'S RATINGS

Rating Action: Moody's Ratings affirms Housing and Urban Development Corp Ltd's Baa3 rating, outlook stable

16 Oct 2026

Singapore, October 16, 2026 -- Moody's Ratings (Moody's) has affirmed the Baa3 local currency (LC) and foreign currency (FC) issuer ratings of Housing and Urban Development Corp Ltd (HUDCO). We have also affirmed HUDCO's (P)Baa3 LC and FC senior unsecured medium-term note (MTN) program ratings.

The outlook on HUDCO's ratings remains stable, reflecting the stable outlook on India's sovereign rating.

RATINGS RATIONALE

HUDCO's Baa3 issuer ratings are one notch above its ba1 standalone assessment to reflect our assumption of a very high level of support from Government of India (Baa3 stable), in times of need. Our assessment of government support for HUDCO is supported by its strong linkages with the government, reflected by the 75% ownership; and the entity's role in implementing key government policies related to housing and urban infrastructure. The government appoints two directors on the company's Board.

HUDCO's ba1 standalone assessment reflects our view that financial profile will remain stable in next 12-18 months.

HUDCO's problem loans ratio, based on Stage 3 loans as a percentage of total outstanding loans, declined to 1.0% as of June 2026 from 3.4% as of March 2023. We expect asset quality to remain stable over the next 12–18 months, given its lending primarily to government related projects which constitutes around 99% of its loan book as of June 2026.

We expect profitability, measured by net income to average managed asset to remain broadly stable over the next 12-18 months. We expect net interest margins to decline amid an increase in competition for infrastructure for commercially viable projects. However, low provisioning costs and operating expenses will support its profitability.

HUDCO's Tangible Common Equity to Tangible Managed Assets ratio declined to 12.7% at the end of March 2026 from 14.1% a year earlier, reflecting rapid loan growth and dividend payouts. However, its reported capital adequacy ratio was 39.4% as of June 2026, supported by the high proportion of lending backed by state government guarantees, which remains over 85% of total loans. These factors help offset the risks from rapid loan growth.

Its government links also support strong access to domestic capital markets and bank borrowings, mitigating the risks associated with its high reliance on wholesale funding and modest liquidity.

FACTORS THAT COULD LEAD TO AN UPGRADE OR DOWNGRADE OF THE RATINGS

WHAT COULD MOVE THE RATINGS UP

HUDCO's issuer ratings are at the same level as India's Baa3 sovereign rating, and therefore, we could upgrade its ratings if the sovereign rating is upgraded.

We could improve HUDCO's standalone assessment if the company's liquidity significantly improves over a sustained period such that it provides a buffer against adverse market conditions, while its asset quality and capitalization remain stable.

WHAT COULD MOVE THE RATINGS DOWN

We could downgrade HUDCO's issuer ratings if the sovereign rating is downgraded or if government support for the company weakens.

We could lower HUDCO's standalone assessment if its asset quality materially deteriorates, as reflected in its problem loans ratio rising to above 5%; if its capitalization weakens to the point that its TCE/TMA ratio falls to below 9.5%; or if it materially increases its exposure to higher-risk assets and the associated risks are not adequately mitigated by support, such as government guarantees or budgetary support.

The principal methodology used in these ratings was Finance Companies published in July 2024 and available at https://ratings.moodys.com/rmc-documents/425167. Alternatively, please see the Rating Methodologies page on https://ratings.moodys.com for a copy of this methodology.

The net effect of any adjustments applied to rating factor scores or scorecard outputs under the primary methodology(ies), if any, was not material to the ratings addressed in this announcement.

Housing and Urban Development Corp Ltd is headquartered in New Delhi and reported total consolidated assets of around INR1.7 trillion as of 31 March 2026.
